Ms. Ellison,

I appreciate your calling me this morning after this hearing protocol failed to consider the indecency of calling me at 10:30PM. Heck, I saw people listed to Testify after 1AM?

I believe Dominion has simply proven what most of us I believe thought; that it was a bad idea to let them assume SCEG.

If I had my way, I'd sue Dominion out of the Lowcountry; if not out of existence all-together.

It is OUR prerogative to use solar. If Dominion cannot adapt, then they should go obsolete before being allow to pull this type of shenanigan with "net-metering". It's evidence some imbecile who's trying to make his or her mark - or just plain greed - came up with this nonsense.

I think Dominion picked the wrong state to mess with. I've posted to Social Media including the state elected officials from our Lowcountry districts. As I shared in the previous email this morning, and this one now; a 10:30PM call is a joke. I signed up to testify, though as a 100% combat disabled veteran, this is a significant undue stressor being caused by Dominion and a system that allows them to even get a hearing.

As I shared too, I believe a lawsuit is in order. Since there were so many people publicly listed, perhaps I shall also reach out to them to start Class-Action on Dominion to not only end this fiasco but also end their business in our state if not altogether; with monetary grievance damages to each of us on their way out the door.

We are a solar home and Dominion has no right to charge us for using the sun that God created!

Sincerely,

Kent D. Fletcher

Good Morning Mr. Fletcher,

I apologize for the delayed schedule. We had some technical difficulties throughout the day, and some witnesses took much longer than expected due to Party and Commissioner questions.

If you didn't get the opportunity to deliver your testimony, you can submit written comments to contact@psc.sc.gov.

Sincerely,

PSC Communications
